

Writing Leads

Take ten minutes and write a different possible lead to your personal experience essay. The whole of your life is fair game, so there should be no question of a lack of material.

Don't worry about this being the lead that you'll use for your final draft of this piece. Play around with the “idea” of a lead and your own voice.